

Data Protection & Privacy Policy

As a diversified business group operating in the State of Qatar, Al Sraiya Holding recognizes its responsibility to respect the privacy and confidentiality of all personal and corporate information entrusted to it. Our Data Protection and Privacy Policy outlines our commitment to complying with applicable data protection laws in Qatar and globally, and to implementing best practices in data governance.

We collect, store, process, and share personal and business information only as necessary for operational, legal, or service-related purposes, with full transparency and appropriate consent where required. We employ robust security protocols and access controls to prevent unauthorized access, loss, or misuse of data.

We implement strict privacy measures to ensure responsible data handling across all operations. This policy applies to all subsidiaries and departments, and extends to employees, clients, partners, suppliers, and third parties. By respecting privacy as a fundamental right, we aim to build and maintain trust with all those who interact with us.
